

MINUTES N° 004

Governance Committee ZERO Energy

Date: 4 March 2026 Time: 9:00 AM Modality: Virtual

1. Opening of the session

The Governance Committee holds its fourth ordinary session with the majority of its members in attendance. The presence of all ambassadors is confirmed and the agenda is presented, comprising the following items: status of the previously approved event, community training strategy, planning of in-person events, and review of weekly working dynamics.

2. Approved event: status and materials

The committee resumes the follow-up of the event previously approved by the group. The level of committee involvement in the event is assessed, including the possibility of producing its own materials or providing support to the organisation.

Conclusion

- Formal record is made that the event was approved prior to this session.
 - Details regarding materials and support strategy remain pending and will be addressed at the next meeting.

3. Technical training in blockchain and Web3

The committee deliberates on the advisability of organising a training session on blockchain technology, Web3, and the project protocol, aimed at community members joining without prior knowledge. Various formats are considered: a live session, short videos organised by thematic blocks, or pre-recorded material for asynchronous consumption.

Following deliberation, the committee considers that the current moment requires concentrating available resources on acquisition, duplication, and business presentation activities. The development of proprietary technical training content would disperse the focus of both the team and the community away from the primary objective. It is further noted that the community's messaging must be uniform and replicable across all communications.

Agreement

- No technical training in blockchain/Web3 will be conducted as an immediate activity.
- The possibility of organising an exceptional training session in the future, outside the regular programme, remains open for when the team's operational workload permits.

- It is agreed that all communications directed at the community must adhere to the project's official messaging in a uniform and consistent manner.

4. Strategy for in-person events

The committee analyses the distinction between business presentations and larger-scale events, establishing a framework of progressive planning for both formats.

It is agreed that monthly business presentations constitute the immediate priority. These will be held at catering venues with a cocktail reception included, with a target of increasing attendance over the coming months. For their proper management, a lead capture page with a guest registration system is required.

With regard to larger-scale events, the committee approves linking them to the achievement of specific presale milestones of the project. Each completed tranche will give rise to a celebration event of progressively greater scale.

Agreement

- APPROVED: To hold a celebration event upon the completion of each presale tranche, scaling in size and scope accordingly.
 - Immediate priority: To organise monthly business presentations (March, April, May, June) with a target of increasing attendance.
 - Larger-scale events remain contingent upon the achievement of the presale milestones agreed upon internally.
 - A lead capture page will be created for the registration of guests attending the business presentations.

5. Monitoring of investor activity

The committee reviews the weekly evolution of the number of active investors through a graphical representation. A positive trend is noted in general terms; however, the need for active follow-up with registered individuals who have not yet formalised their participation in the project is identified.

Conclusion

- The project is at a stage of growth that requires sustained attention.
 - It is agreed to drive active follow-up with registered individuals who have not yet formalised their participation in the project.

6. Weekly working dynamics: structure and scheduling

The committee addresses in depth the functioning of the Monday and Thursday working sessions, currently distributed across multiple time slots. The advisability of maintaining several time slots versus consolidating activity into a single evening session is deliberated.

Arguments in favour of each option are analysed: a variety of time slots accommodates individuals with differing availability, whereas a single session allows for a greater concentration of resources, facilitates session leadership, and frees up time for other operational tasks of the team.

Following deliberation and the corresponding vote, the committee approves the reduction to a single session per day.

Agreement

- APPROVED: To reduce Monday and Thursday sessions to a single evening time slot (approximately 21:30–22:00 h), to be confirmed definitively.
 - The Wednesday business presentation dynamic is maintained, with an internal working block preceding it.
 - It is agreed to communicate the new schedule to the community and to promote participation in the established sessions.
 - It is agreed that sessions must follow a defined and replicable structure, avoiding improvisation.
 - An internal alignment session will be scheduled to define the working session dynamics.

7. Management of contacts without active follow-up

The situation of individuals who have joined the community channels but have no active follow-up and whose registration or investment status is unknown is raised. The committee agrees that the appropriate means of integrating these individuals is their incorporation into the weekly working sessions.

Conclusion

- The committee agrees that the management and follow-up of community contacts is the responsibility of each coordination area.
 - It is recommended that captured contacts be incorporated into the Monday and Thursday sessions as a first step towards their integration into the project's dynamics.
 - The individualised follow-up of new contacts falls within the remit of the coordination area that has incorporated them into the project's channels.

8. Closing of the session

With no further matters to discuss, the session of the Governance Committee is hereby adjourned. It is noted that certain items on the planned agenda remain pending for the next ordinary meeting.
